

The Best Local News Reports.
Largest Circulation.
Unsurpassed as a Newspaper.
ABREAST OF THE TIMES.

VOL. 30--NO. 29.

ASHBURN K. BARBOUR,
Attorney and Counselor at Law
MASONIC TEMPLE, HELENA, M. T.
MASSENA BULLARD,
Attorney and Counselor at Law,
HELENA, MONTANA.
Will practice in all courts of record in the Territory. Office in Gold Block.

NOLAN & BEAN,
Law Office--Gold Block
HELENA, M. T.

R. G. DAVIES,
ATTORNEY-AT-LAW,
ROOM 3, ANSBY BLOCK, - HELENA, M. T.

DR. M. ROCKMAN,
Physician Surgeon, Acouocher, Oculist and Aurist.
Member of San Francisco Medical Society, also Nevada State Medical Society.

Eye, Ear, Nose and Throat.
DR. M. G. PARSONS,
Fifteen years' experience.
Performs all operations and treats all diseases of the Eye, Ear, Nose and Throat. Corrects curvature of vision and adjusts glasses.
Office, corner Main Street and Sixth Avenue, over Jno. Murphy's grocery store.

J. H. FRENCH,
Veterinary Surgeon.
OFFICE--Jno. O'Neill's stable, corner Main and First streets.

MONTFORD S. BACON, M. D.
Physician, Surgeon, and Oculist,
HELENA, M. T.
Special attention given to the Eye, Ear and Throat.
Full assortment of artificial eyes.

W. LONG,
VETERINARY SURGEON,
OFFICE--Street & Fisher's Stable, Lower Main Street. Telephone No. 133.

FRENCH LESSONS.
PROF. A. DANSE,
Late of Western University, Pa. Room 33 Gold
Block.

A. M. SANDS,
TYPE - WRITING
--AND--
Amanuensis Work.
Office with Paulsen & McConnell.

H. BAUER,
TANNER & DRESSER,
108 Lawrence Street, Helena, M. T.

PAULSEN & MCCONNELL,
ARCHITECTS
Attended Strictly to Architectural Work
Plans and specifications drawn. Work supervised. OFFICE--Wilson Block, Helena, Montana.

G. W. MERRILL,
Sole Agent for the Carbolic Smoke Ball and Debel-lator.

JOHN A. SCHNEIDER,
FRESCO PAINTER,
No. 38 South Davis Street.

P. O. Box 78, Helena, M. T.
Public buildings, churches and dwelling houses decorated in the latest style.
Will furnish designs. Decorated Hon. W. A.
Clark's and M. J. Talbot's residences, Butte.
Decorated the new Hotel, Helena, Montana.
Patented, a novelty.

USE THE
R
BRAND OF
Hams and Breakfast Bacon
CURED AND
Smoked in Montana
BY THE
MONTANA PACKING AND PROVISION CO.
Packers, Curers and Smokers of Choice, Mildly Cured Meats.
OFFICE--Refrigerator Building.

CHICAGO &
NORTHWESTERN RAILWAY IS THE DIRECT ROUTE TO
CHICAGO, NEW YORK
Boston, Philadelphia,
AND ALL EASTERN CITIES
--VIA--
Omaha and Council Bluffs.

It is absolutely the shortest and best line to Chicago and the East.
It offers every facility for quick, safe, and comfortable travel.
It stands second to none in the West, and offers inducements and advantages that are not and cannot be offered by any of its competitors.
The celebrated Northwestern Dining Cars and the service of everything that helps to make a journey over the old Northwestern pleasant and comfortable.
Passengers who consult their own interest will naturally purchase tickets over this popular and expensive route.

Manhood
RESTORED, Renewed
Energy, Increased
Vitality, and
General Health, by the use of
Dr. J. C. Smith's
"Manhood"
Cure.

The Helena

HELENA, MONTANA TERRITORY, TUESDAY MORNING, JANUARY 8, 1889.

The Only
MORNING NEWS PAPER
IN HELENA
That Receives a Telegraphic Report Giving all the News of the World Daily.

FIVE CENTS

The Plymouth CLOTHING HOUSE

IS OFFERING
Bargains in Fine Suits,
OVERCOATS,
GENTS FURNISHING GOODS, ETC.

Call and See us Before Purchasing Elsewhere.
LEVY & ELIAS.

T. C. POWER & CO.,
JOBBERS AND DEALERS IN MINING MACHINERY!

AND
Agricultural Implements,
Just received, a large stock of

Bement & Son's
Celebrated "Maine" and "Brown"
BOB SLEDGS.

Deere & Co. Sulky, Gang and Walking Plows.
SCHUTTLE AND RUSHFORD
TUBULAR AXLE AND STEEL SKEIN WAGONS.
FINE HAND-MADE
Carriage and Heavy Team Harness.

Our stock of fine Carriages and Buggies is the largest and most complete ever shown in Helena.
A full line of Mine and Mill supplies embracing Blake Steam Pumps, Reverse
Rubber Co. Mechanical goods, Common Sense Whip, etc., etc.
Send for Circulars and Price List. Steamboat Block, corner of Main Street and Helena Avenue.

S. C. ASHBY.
C. A. BROADWATER
S. C. Ashby & Co.
HELENA AND GREAT FALLS.

SWEET'S PATENT
"Common Sense" "Arctic" and "Manitoba"
BOB SLEDGS.
"Mitchell" Farm and Spring Wagons,
Fine Carriages, Buggies, Phaetons,
Buckboards, Road Carts, Etc., Etc.

HARNESS, BARB WIRE,
VICTOR FEED MILL.
WALL TENTS, WAGON COVERS, ETC.

FURST & BRADLEY
Sulky, Gang and Walking Plows.
HARROWS, HOOSIER DRILLS,
DEDERICK HAY PRESSES
Bailing Ties, Etc., Etc.

F. S. LANG & CO.
(INCORPORATED) WHOLESALE AND RETAIL.
Ranges, Stoves, Crockery,
GLASSWARE AND HOUSE FURNISHING GOODS.

Granite Iron, Copper and Tinware.
Marbled Glassware, Bohemian Vases,
Palmetto Glassware, Mush and Milk Sets,
Japanese China, China Dinner Sets,
OPAQUE CHINA, DECORATED AND PLAIN.
Haviland's China, Decorated and Plain
Cups and Saucers, Salad Sets,
100 OREAM SETS, WINE SETS, ROCHESTER LAMPS.

"Aurora" Quadruple Plated Silverware,
THE BEST IN THE WORLD.
Union Block.

ATTENTION LADIES!
Have you seen the Finest Line of Evening and Party Slippers
In Undressed Kid, Beaded, ever shown in the West. If you would like to see them call on
F. E. GAGE & CO., No. 25 Upper Main St.

SECRET SESSION.

The Senate Disposes of the Edmunds
Panama Canal Resolution With Closed Doors--In the House.

THE ALASKAN OUTRAGES

A Democratic Caucus to Devise a Way Out of a Dilemma--Completion of the Sundry Civil Appropriation Bill.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 7.—In the senate the committee on public lands reported a bill to establish the Lincoln land district in New Mexico, which passed both houses last session and failed to receive the president's signature before adjournment. The bill passed the resolution heretofore offered by Stewart to inquire whether there had been obstructions of any mining operations in Nevada on account of the prosecutions recommended by the commissioner of the general land office was taken up and agreed to. The resolution reported from the committee on foreign relations, in reference to the Panama canal, was taken up. Gray rose to make some remarks but was interrupted by a motion made by Edmunds to adjourn. The galleries were accordingly cleared and the senate went into secret session.

The secret session continued till 5:40, when the doors were reopened. It was then found the discussion had been carried on by Edmunds, Sherman, Morgan, Gage and Jones. Edmunds' motion was adopted, 99 yeas, 10 nays, having been modified so as to read: Resolved, by the senate and house of representatives of the United States of America, in congress assembled, that the government of the United States shall look with serious concern and disapproval upon any connection of an European government with the construction or control of any canal across the Isthmus of Darien, across Central America, and must regard any such connection of control as injurious to the rights of the United States and a menace to their welfare.

The negative vote were those of Blackburn, Hampton and Vance. On motion of Allison the existing order as to a vote on the tariff bill was extended for one day in consequence of this day's session having been occupied by the Panama canal resolution, so that the vote on the tariff bill will be taken Jan. 22 at 1 o'clock.

THE HOUSE.
Immediately after the reading of the Journal the contest over the proposed change in the rules, abolishing the call of states on suspension Mondays, was resumed, the pending question being whether the previous question, and the clerk proceeded to call the roll. The vote resulted, yeas, 123; nays, 105. A quorum, less than a quorum, and a call of the house was ordered. The call developed the presence of 229, and was again taken up on ordering the previous question upon the resolution.

Again the quorum failed away, the vote standing, yeas, 123; nays, 105. Twelve votes were still lacking to enable to proceed to business. A new mover, a call of the house, was ordered.

Two hundred and twenty-six members once more responded to the names. Blount moved to adjourn, but the democrats remained divided and the motion was defeated, yeas, 74; nays, 108. Then Anderson, Kansas, entered a motion that when the house adjourn to-day it be to meet Wednesday next, and the speaker entertained the motion, notwithstanding the point of order raised by Reed, that it was not in order. No quorum was present and the vote and yeas and nays were ordered. The motion having been defeated, yeas, 74; nays, 108. Anderson, Iowa, then came forward to reinforce his namesake from Kansas with a filibuster, and for adjournment until Wednesday, which was promptly voted down—yeas, 123; nays, 105, and the motion to adjourn until Thursday, which was also defeated, yeas, 74; nays, 108. Then, under the rule, the session ended by adjournment. The Andersons, from Kansas and Iowa, were the only democrats who voted with the republicans on adjournment. The other third of the democrats, consisting of special friends and adherents of the Union Pacific, voted with the republicans against adjournment. A democratic caucus was announced to be held at 7:30 p. m.

DENIED BY EVERYONE.
Government Employees Testifying in the Alaskan Outrage Investigation.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 7.—The inquiry into the alleged outrages on the seal islands of St. Paul and St. George and the operations of the Alaska Commercial company on those islands was resumed by the house committee on fisheries this morning. The first witness called was Capt. Shepherd, of the revenue marine service, who made a cruise in Alaskan waters during the seasons of 1887 and 1888. He never heard of the outrages, and he never knew of any of the reported outrages, and was never asked to protect anyone. Commander Nichols, stationed at San Francisco, was in Alaskan waters last summer in the interest of the seal survey. He said he saw nothing in the treatment of the natives that would lead to adverse criticism. Capt. Abbot, of the revenue marine service, said he did not see anything to justify the accusations against the employees of the Alaska company, recently published by Louis Kimball, assistant treasury agent at St. George, from May, 1882, to August, 1883, was questioned with reference to the correctness of the interview between himself and the respondent of a New York paper in Indianapolis, which reflected seriously upon the officers of the Alaska company and of the seal island of St. George. Witness said the interview as published was perverted; that something had been put in his mouth he never uttered. He had never heard of any case of rape on the island, nor did he know of any unusual amount of delinquency there. Mr. G. B. Fingle, treasury agent at the island, said he could state positively that he did not see anything to justify the accusations against the employees of the Alaska company, recently published by Louis Kimball, assistant treasury agent at St. George, from May, 1882, to August, 1883, was questioned with reference to the correctness of the interview between himself and the respondent of a New York paper in Indianapolis, which reflected seriously upon the officers of the Alaska company and of the seal island of St. George. Witness said the interview as published was perverted; that something had been put in his mouth he never uttered. He had never heard of any case of rape on the island, nor did he know of any unusual amount of delinquency there. Mr. G. B. Fingle, treasury agent at the island, said he could state positively that he did not see anything to justify the accusations against the employees of the Alaska company, recently published by Louis Kimball, assistant treasury agent at St. George, from May, 1882, to August, 1883, was questioned with reference to the correctness of the interview between himself and the respondent of a New York paper in Indianapolis, which reflected seriously upon the officers of the Alaska company and of the seal island of St. George. Witness said the interview as published was perverted; that something had been put in his mouth he never uttered. He had never heard of any case of rape on the island, nor did he know of any unusual amount of delinquency there. Mr. G. B. Fingle, treasury agent at the island, said he could state positively that he did not see anything to justify the accusations against the employees of the Alaska company, recently published by Louis Kimball, assistant treasury agent at St. George, from May, 1882, to August, 1883, was questioned with reference to the correctness of the interview between himself and the respondent of a New York paper in Indianapolis, which reflected seriously upon the officers of the Alaska company and of the seal island of St. George. Witness said the interview as published was perverted; that something had been put in his mouth he never uttered. He had never heard of any case of rape on the island, nor did he know of any unusual amount of delinquency there. Mr. G. B. Fingle, treasury agent at the island, said he could state positively that he did not see anything to justify the accusations against the employees of the Alaska company, recently published by Louis Kimball, assistant treasury agent at St. George, from May, 1882, to August, 1883, was questioned with reference to the correctness of the interview between himself and the respondent of a New York paper in Indianapolis, which reflected seriously upon the officers of the Alaska company and of the seal island of St. George. Witness said the interview as published was perverted; that something had been put in his mouth he never uttered. He had never heard of any case of rape on the island, nor did he know of any unusual amount of delinquency there. Mr. G. B. Fingle, treasury agent at the island, said he could state positively that he did not see anything to justify the accusations against the employees of the Alaska company, recently published by Louis Kimball, assistant treasury agent at St. George, from May, 1882, to August, 1883, was questioned with reference to the correctness of the interview between himself and the respondent of a New York paper in Indianapolis, which reflected seriously upon the officers of the Alaska company and of the seal island of St. George. Witness said the interview as published was perverted; that something had been put in his mouth he never uttered. He had never heard of any case of rape on the island, nor did he know of any unusual amount of delinquency there. Mr. G. B. Fingle, treasury agent at the island, said he could state positively that he did not see anything to justify the accusations against the employees of the Alaska company, recently published by Louis Kimball, assistant treasury agent at St. George, from May, 1882, to August, 1883, was questioned with reference to the correctness of the interview between himself and the respondent of a New York paper in Indianapolis, which reflected seriously upon the officers of the Alaska company and of the seal island of St. George. Witness said the interview as published was perverted; that something had been put in his mouth he never uttered. He had never heard of any case of rape on the island, nor did he know of any unusual amount of delinquency there. Mr. G. B. Fingle, treasury agent at the island, said he could state positively that he did not see anything to justify the accusations against the employees of the Alaska company, recently published by Louis Kimball, assistant treasury agent at St. George, from May, 1882, to August, 1883, was questioned with reference to the correctness of the interview between himself and the respondent of a New York paper in Indianapolis, which reflected seriously upon the officers of the Alaska company and of the seal island of St. George. Witness said the interview as published was perverted; that something had been put in his mouth he never uttered. He had never heard of any case of rape on the island, nor did he know of any unusual amount of delinquency there. Mr. G. B. Fingle, treasury agent at the island, said he could state positively that he did not see anything to justify the accusations against the employees of the Alaska company, recently published by Louis Kimball, assistant treasury agent at St. George, from May, 1882, to August, 1883, was questioned with reference to the correctness of the interview between himself and the respondent of a New York paper in Indianapolis, which reflected seriously upon the officers of the Alaska company and of the seal island of St. George. Witness said the interview as published was perverted; that something had been put in his mouth he never uttered. He had never heard of any case of rape on the island, nor did he know of any unusual amount of delinquency there. Mr. G. B. Fingle, treasury agent at the island, said he could state positively that he did not see anything to justify the accusations against the employees of the Alaska company, recently published by Louis Kimball, assistant treasury agent at St. George, from May, 1882, to August, 1883, was questioned with reference to the correctness of the interview between himself and the respondent of a New York paper in Indianapolis, which reflected seriously upon the officers of the Alaska company and of the seal island of St. George. Witness said the interview as published was perverted; that something had been put in his mouth he never uttered. He had never heard of any case of rape on the island, nor did he know of any unusual amount of delinquency there. Mr. G. B. Fingle, treasury agent at the island, said he could state positively that he did not see anything to justify the accusations against the employees of the Alaska company, recently published by Louis Kimball, assistant treasury agent at St. George, from May, 1882, to August, 1883, was questioned with reference to the correctness of the interview between himself and the respondent of a New York paper in Indianapolis, which reflected seriously upon the officers of the Alaska company and of the seal island of St. George. Witness said the interview as published was perverted; that something had been put in his mouth he never uttered. He had never heard of any case of rape on the island, nor did he know of any unusual amount of delinquency there. Mr. G. B. Fingle, treasury agent at the island, said he could state positively that he did not see anything to justify the accusations against the employees of the Alaska company, recently published by Louis Kimball, assistant treasury agent at St. George, from May, 1882, to August, 1883, was questioned with reference to the correctness of the interview between himself and the respondent of a New York paper in Indianapolis, which reflected seriously upon the officers of the Alaska company and of the seal island of St. George. Witness said the interview as published was perverted; that something had been put in his mouth he never uttered. He had never heard of any case of rape on the island, nor did he know of any unusual amount of delinquency there. Mr. G. B. Fingle, treasury agent at the island, said he could state positively that he did not see anything to justify the accusations against the employees of the Alaska company, recently published by Louis Kimball, assistant treasury agent at St. George, from May, 1882, to August, 1883, was questioned with reference to the correctness of the interview between himself and the respondent of a New York paper in Indianapolis, which reflected seriously upon the officers of the Alaska company and of the seal island of St. George. Witness said the interview as published was perverted; that something had been put in his mouth he never uttered. He had never heard of any case of rape on the island, nor did he know of any unusual amount of delinquency there. Mr. G. B. Fingle, treasury agent at the island, said he could state positively that he did not see anything to justify the accusations against the employees of the Alaska company, recently published by Louis Kimball, assistant treasury agent at St. George, from May, 1882, to August, 1883, was questioned with reference to the correctness of the interview between himself and the respondent of a New York paper in Indianapolis, which reflected seriously upon the officers of the Alaska company and of the seal island of St. George. Witness said the interview as published was perverted; that something had been put in his mouth he never uttered. He had never heard of any case of rape on the island, nor did he know of any unusual amount of delinquency there. Mr. G. B. Fingle, treasury agent at the island, said he could state positively that he did not see anything to justify the accusations against the employees of the Alaska company, recently published by Louis Kimball, assistant treasury agent at St. George, from May, 1882, to August, 1883, was questioned with reference to the correctness of the interview between himself and the respondent of a New York paper in Indianapolis, which reflected seriously upon the officers of the Alaska company and of the seal island of St. George. Witness said the interview as published was perverted; that something had been put in his mouth he never uttered. He had never heard of any case of rape on the island, nor did he know of any unusual amount of delinquency there. Mr. G. B. Fingle, treasury agent at the island, said he could state positively that he did not see anything to justify the accusations against the employees of the Alaska company, recently published by Louis Kimball, assistant treasury agent at St. George, from May, 1882, to August, 1883, was questioned with reference to the correctness of the interview between himself and the respondent of a New York paper in Indianapolis, which reflected seriously upon the officers of the Alaska company and of the seal island of St. George. Witness said the interview as published was perverted; that something had been put in his mouth he never uttered. He had never heard of any case of rape on the island, nor did he know of any unusual amount of delinquency there. Mr. G. B. Fingle, treasury agent at the island, said he could state positively that he did not see anything to justify the accusations against the employees of the Alaska company, recently published by Louis Kimball, assistant treasury agent at St. George, from May, 1882, to August, 1883, was questioned with reference to the correctness of the interview between himself and the respondent of a New York paper in Indianapolis, which reflected seriously upon the officers of the Alaska company and of the seal island of St. George. Witness said the interview as published was perverted; that something had been put in his mouth he never uttered. He had never heard of any case of rape on the island, nor did he know of any unusual amount of delinquency there. Mr. G. B. Fingle, treasury agent at the island, said he could state positively that he did not see anything to justify the accusations against the employees of the Alaska company, recently published by Louis Kimball, assistant treasury agent at St. George, from May, 1882, to August, 1883, was questioned with reference to the correctness of the interview between himself and the respondent of a New York paper in Indianapolis, which reflected seriously upon the officers of the Alaska company and of the seal island of St. George. Witness said the interview as published was perverted; that something had been put in his mouth he never uttered. He had never heard of any case of rape on the island, nor did he know of any unusual amount of delinquency there. Mr. G. B. Fingle, treasury agent at the island, said he could state positively that he did not see anything to justify the accusations against the employees of the Alaska company, recently published by Louis Kimball, assistant treasury agent at St. George, from May, 1882, to August, 1883, was questioned with reference to the correctness of the interview between himself and the respondent of a New York paper in Indianapolis, which reflected seriously upon the officers of the Alaska company and of the seal island of St. George. Witness said the interview as published was perverted; that something had been put in his mouth he never uttered. He had never heard of any case of rape on the island, nor did he know of any unusual amount of delinquency there. Mr. G. B. Fingle, treasury agent at the island, said he could state positively that he did not see anything to justify the accusations against the employees of the Alaska company, recently published by Louis Kimball, assistant treasury agent at St. George, from May, 1882, to August, 1883, was questioned with reference to the correctness of the interview between himself and the respondent of a New York paper in Indianapolis, which reflected seriously upon the officers of the Alaska company and of the seal island of St. George. Witness said the interview as published was perverted; that something had been put in his mouth he never uttered. He had never heard of any case of rape on the island, nor did he know of any unusual amount of delinquency there. Mr. G. B. Fingle, treasury agent at the island, said he could state positively that he did not see anything to justify the accusations against the employees of the Alaska company, recently published by Louis Kimball, assistant treasury agent at St. George, from May, 1882, to August, 1883, was questioned with reference to the correctness of the interview between himself and the respondent of a New York paper in Indianapolis, which reflected seriously upon the officers of the Alaska company and of the seal island of St. George. Witness said the interview as published was perverted; that something had been put in his mouth he never uttered. He had never heard of any case of rape on the island, nor did he know of any unusual amount of delinquency there. Mr. G. B. Fingle, treasury agent at the island, said he could state positively that he did not see anything to justify the accusations against the employees of the Alaska company, recently published by Louis Kimball, assistant treasury agent at St. George, from May, 1882, to August, 1883, was questioned with reference to the correctness of the interview between himself and the respondent of a New York paper in Indianapolis, which reflected seriously upon the officers of the Alaska company and of the seal island of St. George. Witness said the interview as published was perverted; that something had been put in his mouth he never uttered. He had never heard of any case of rape on the island, nor did he know of any unusual amount of delinquency there. Mr. G. B. Fingle, treasury agent at the island, said he could state positively that he did not see anything to justify the accusations against the employees of the Alaska company, recently published by Louis Kimball, assistant treasury agent at St. George, from May, 1882, to August, 1883, was questioned with reference to the correctness of the interview between himself and the respondent of a New York paper in Indianapolis, which reflected seriously upon the officers of the Alaska company and of the seal island of St. George. Witness said the interview as published was perverted; that something had been put in his mouth he never uttered. He had never heard of any case of rape on the island, nor did he know of any unusual amount of delinquency there. Mr. G. B. Fingle, treasury agent at the island, said he could state positively that he did not see anything to justify the accusations against the employees of the Alaska company, recently published by Louis Kimball, assistant treasury agent at St. George, from May, 1882, to August, 1883, was questioned with reference to the correctness of the interview between himself and the respondent of a New York paper in Indianapolis, which reflected seriously upon the officers of the Alaska company and of the seal island of St. George. Witness said the interview as published was perverted; that something had been put in his mouth he never uttered. He had never heard of any case of rape on the island, nor did he know of any unusual amount of delinquency there. Mr. G. B. Fingle, treasury agent at the island, said he could state positively that he did not see anything to justify the accusations against the employees of the Alaska company, recently published by Louis Kimball, assistant treasury agent at St. George, from May, 1882, to August, 1883, was questioned with reference to the correctness of the interview between himself and the respondent of a New York paper in Indianapolis, which reflected seriously upon the officers of the Alaska company and of the seal island of St. George. Witness said the interview as published was perverted; that something had been put in his mouth he never uttered. He had never heard of any case of rape on the island, nor did he know of any unusual amount of delinquency there. Mr. G. B. Fingle, treasury agent at the island, said he could state positively that he did not see anything to justify the accusations against the employees of the Alaska company, recently published by Louis Kimball, assistant treasury agent at St. George, from May, 1882, to August, 1883, was questioned with reference to the correctness of the interview between himself and the respondent of a New York paper in Indianapolis, which reflected seriously upon the officers of the Alaska company and of the seal island of St. George. Witness said the interview as published was perverted; that something had been put in his mouth he never uttered. He had never heard of any case of rape on the island, nor did he know of any unusual amount of delinquency there. Mr. G. B. Fingle, treasury agent at the island, said he could state positively that he did not see anything to justify the accusations against the employees of the Alaska company, recently published by Louis Kimball, assistant treasury agent at St. George, from May, 1882, to August, 1883, was questioned with reference to the correctness of the interview between himself and the respondent of a New York paper in Indianapolis, which reflected seriously upon the officers of the Alaska company and of the seal island of St. George. Witness said the interview as published was perverted; that something had been put in his mouth he never uttered. He had never heard of any case of rape on the island, nor did he know of any unusual amount of delinquency there. Mr. G. B. Fingle, treasury agent at the island, said he could state positively that he did not see anything to justify the accusations against the employees of the Alaska company, recently published by Louis Kimball, assistant treasury agent at St. George, from May, 1882, to August, 1883, was questioned with reference to the correctness of the interview between himself and the respondent of a New York paper in Indianapolis, which reflected seriously upon the officers of the Alaska company and of the seal island of St. George. Witness said the interview as published was perverted; that something had been put in his mouth he never uttered. He had never heard of any case of rape on the island, nor did he know of any unusual amount of delinquency there. Mr. G. B. Fingle, treasury agent at the island, said he could state positively that he did not see anything to justify the accusations against the employees of the Alaska company, recently published by Louis Kimball, assistant treasury agent at St. George, from May, 1882, to August, 1883, was questioned with reference to the correctness of the interview between himself and the respondent of a New York paper in Indianapolis, which reflected seriously upon the officers of the Alaska company and of the seal island of St. George. Witness said the interview as published was perverted; that something had been put in his mouth he never uttered. He had never heard of any case of rape on the island, nor did he know of any unusual amount of delinquency there. Mr. G. B. Fingle, treasury agent at the island, said he could state positively that he did not see anything to justify the accusations against the employees of the Alaska company, recently published by Louis Kimball, assistant treasury agent at St. George, from May, 1882, to August, 1883, was questioned with reference to the correctness of the interview between himself and the respondent of a New York paper in Indianapolis, which reflected seriously upon the officers of the Alaska company and of the seal island of St. George. Witness said the interview as published was perverted; that something had been put in his mouth he never uttered. He had never heard of any case of rape on the island, nor did he know of any unusual amount of delinquency there. Mr. G. B. Fingle, treasury agent at the island, said he could state positively that he did not see anything to justify the accusations against the employees of the Alaska company, recently published by Louis Kimball, assistant treasury agent at St. George, from May, 1882, to August, 1883, was questioned with reference to the correctness of the interview between himself and the respondent of a New York paper in Indianapolis, which reflected seriously upon the officers of the Alaska company and of the seal island of St. George. Witness said the interview as published was perverted; that something had been put in his mouth he never uttered. He had never heard of any case of rape on the island, nor did he know of any unusual amount of delinquency there. Mr. G. B. Fingle, treasury agent at the island, said he could state positively that he did not see anything to justify the accusations against the employees of the Alaska company, recently published by Louis Kimball, assistant treasury agent at St. George, from May, 1882, to August, 1883, was questioned with reference to the correctness of the interview between himself and the respondent of a New York paper in Indianapolis, which reflected seriously upon the officers of the Alaska company and of the seal island of St. George. Witness said the interview as published was perverted; that something had been put in his mouth he never uttered. He had never heard of any case of rape on the island, nor did he know of any unusual amount of delinquency there. Mr. G. B. Fingle, treasury agent at the island, said he could state positively that he did not see anything to justify the accusations against the employees of the Alaska company, recently published by Louis Kimball, assistant treasury agent at St. George, from May, 1882, to August, 1883, was questioned with reference to the correctness of the interview between himself and the respondent of a New York paper in Indianapolis, which reflected seriously upon the officers of the Alaska company and of the seal island of St. George. Witness said the interview as published was perverted; that something had been put in his mouth he never uttered. He had never heard of any case of rape on the island, nor did he know of any unusual amount of delinquency there. Mr. G. B. Fingle, treasury agent at the island, said he could state positively that he did not see anything to justify the accusations against the employees of the Alaska company, recently published by Louis Kimball, assistant treasury agent at St. George, from May, 1882, to August, 1883, was questioned with reference to the correctness of the interview between himself and the respondent of a New York paper in Indianapolis, which reflected seriously upon the officers of the Alaska company and of the seal island of St. George. Witness said the interview as published was perverted; that something had been put in his mouth he never uttered. He had never heard of any case of rape on the island, nor did he know of any unusual amount of delinquency there. Mr. G. B. Fingle, treasury agent at the island, said he could state positively that he did not see anything to justify the accusations against the employees of the Alaska company, recently published by Louis Kimball, assistant treasury agent at St. George, from May, 1882, to August, 1883, was questioned with reference to the correctness of the interview between himself and the respondent of a New York paper in Indianapolis, which reflected seriously upon the officers of the Alaska company and of the seal island of St. George. Witness said the interview as published was perverted; that something had been put in his mouth he never uttered. He had never heard of any case of rape on the island, nor did he know of any unusual amount of delinquency there. Mr. G. B. Fingle, treasury agent at the island, said he could state positively that he did not see anything to justify the accusations against the employees of the Alaska company, recently published by Louis Kimball, assistant treasury agent at St. George, from May, 1882, to August, 1883, was questioned with reference to the correctness of the interview between himself and the respondent of a New York paper in Indianapolis, which reflected seriously upon the officers of the Alaska company and of the seal island of St. George. Witness said the interview as published was perverted; that something had been put in his mouth he never uttered. He had never heard of any case of rape on the island, nor did he know of any unusual amount of delinquency there. Mr. G. B. Fingle, treasury agent at the island, said he could state positively that he did not see anything to justify the accusations against the employees of the Alaska company, recently published by Louis Kimball, assistant treasury agent at St. George, from May, 1882, to August, 1883, was questioned with reference to the correctness of the interview between himself and the respondent of a New York paper in Indianapolis, which reflected seriously upon the officers of the Alaska company and of the seal island of St. George. Witness said the interview as published was perverted; that something had been put in his mouth he never uttered. He had never heard of any case of rape on the island, nor did he know of any unusual amount of delinquency there. Mr. G. B. Fingle, treasury agent at the island, said he could state positively that he did not see anything to justify the accusations against the employees of the Alaska company, recently published by Louis Kimball, assistant treasury agent at St. George, from May, 1882, to August, 1883, was questioned with reference to the correctness of the interview between himself and the respondent of a New York paper in Indianapolis, which reflected seriously upon the officers of the Alaska company and of the seal island of St. George. Witness said the interview as published was perverted; that something had been put in his mouth he never uttered. He had never heard of any case of rape on the island, nor did he know of any unusual amount of delinquency there. Mr. G. B. Fingle, treasury agent at the island, said he could state positively that he did not see anything to justify the accusations against the employees of the Alaska company, recently published by Louis Kimball, assistant treasury agent at St. George, from May, 1882, to August, 1883, was questioned with reference to the correctness of the interview between himself and the respondent of a New York paper in Indianapolis, which reflected seriously upon the officers of the Alaska company and of the seal island of St. George. Witness said the interview as published was perverted; that something had been put in his mouth he never uttered. He had never heard of any case of rape on the island, nor did he know of any unusual amount of delinquency there. Mr. G. B. Fingle, treasury agent at the island, said he could state positively that he did not see anything to justify the accusations against the employees of the Alaska company, recently published by Louis Kimball, assistant treasury agent at St. George, from May, 1882, to August, 1883, was questioned with reference to the correctness of the interview between himself and the respondent of a New York paper in Indianapolis, which reflected seriously upon the officers of the Alaska company and of the seal island of St. George. Witness said the interview as published was perverted; that something had been put in his mouth he never uttered. He had never heard of any case of rape on the island, nor did he know of any unusual amount of delinquency there. Mr. G. B. Fingle, treasury agent at the island, said he could state positively that he did not see anything to justify the accusations against the employees of the Alaska company, recently published by Louis Kimball, assistant treasury agent at St. George, from May, 1882, to August, 1883, was questioned with reference to the correctness of the interview between himself and the respondent of a New York paper in Indianapolis, which reflected seriously upon the officers of the Alaska company and of the seal island of St. George. Witness said the interview as published was perverted; that something had been put in his mouth he never uttered. He had never heard of any case of rape on the island, nor did he know of any unusual amount of delinquency there. Mr. G. B. Fingle, treasury agent at the island, said he could state positively that he did not see anything to justify the accusations against the employees of the Alaska company, recently published by Louis Kimball, assistant treasury agent at St. George, from May, 1882, to August, 1883, was questioned with reference to the correctness of the interview between himself and the respondent of a New York paper in Indianapolis, which reflected seriously upon the officers of the Alaska company and of the seal island of St. George. Witness said the interview as published was perverted; that something had been put in his mouth he never uttered. He had never heard of any case of rape on the island, nor did he know of any unusual amount of delinquency there. Mr. G. B. Fingle, treasury agent at the island, said he could state positively that he did not see anything to justify the accusations against the employees of the Alaska company, recently published by Louis Kimball, assistant treasury agent at St. George, from May, 1882, to August, 1883, was questioned with reference to the correctness of the interview between himself and the respondent of a New York paper in Indianapolis, which reflected seriously upon the officers of the Alaska company and of the seal island of St. George. Witness said the interview as published was perverted; that something had been put in his mouth he never uttered. He had never heard of any case of rape on the island, nor did he know of any unusual amount of delinquency there. Mr. G. B. Fingle, treasury agent at the island, said he could state positively that he did not see anything to justify the accusations against the employees of the Alaska company, recently published by Louis Kimball, assistant treasury agent at St. George, from May, 1882, to August, 1883, was questioned with reference to the correctness of the interview between himself and the respondent of a New York paper in Indianapolis, which reflected seriously upon the officers of the Alaska company and of the seal island of St. George. Witness said the interview as published was perverted; that something had been put in his mouth he never uttered. He had never heard of any case of rape on the island, nor did he know of any unusual amount of delinquency there. Mr. G. B. Fingle, treasury agent at the island, said he could state positively that he did not see anything to justify the accusations against the employees of the Alaska company, recently published by Louis Kimball, assistant treasury agent at St. George, from May, 1882, to August, 1883, was questioned with reference to the correctness of the interview between himself and the respondent of a New York paper in Indianapolis, which reflected seriously upon the officers of the Alaska company and of the seal island of St. George. Witness said the interview as published was perverted; that something had been put in his mouth he never uttered. He had never heard of any case of rape on the island, nor did he know of any unusual amount of delinquency there. Mr. G. B. Fingle, treasury agent at the island, said he could state positively that he did not see anything to justify the accusations against the employees of the Alaska company, recently published by Louis Kimball, assistant treasury agent at St. George, from May, 1882, to August, 1883, was questioned with reference to the correctness of the interview between himself and the respondent of a New York paper in Indianapolis, which reflected seriously upon the officers of the Alaska company and of the seal island of St. George. Witness said the interview as published was perverted; that something had been put in his mouth he never uttered. He had never heard of any case of rape on the island, nor did he know of any unusual amount of delinquency there. Mr. G. B. Fingle, treasury agent at the island, said he could state positively that he did not see anything to justify the accusations against the employees of the Alaska company, recently published by Louis Kimball, assistant treasury agent at St. George, from May, 1882, to August, 1883, was questioned with reference to the correctness of the interview between himself and the respondent of a New York paper in Indianapolis, which reflected seriously upon the officers of the Alaska company and of the seal island of St. George. Witness said the interview as published was perverted; that something had been put in his mouth he never uttered. He had never heard of any case of rape on the island, nor did he know of any unusual amount of delinquency there. Mr. G. B. Fingle, treasury agent at the island, said he could state positively that he did not see anything to justify the accusations against the employees of the Alaska company, recently published by Louis Kimball, assistant treasury agent at St. George, from May, 1882, to August, 188